Travel and Tourism Publishing announces new books for BTEC National

7 May 2005

Two brand new books for BTEC National Travel and Tourism are to be launched this summer, in time for the start of the new academic year. Developed specifically for the Award, Certificate and Diploma, the books are written by Ray Youell, one of the most respected authors in the field. Priced at £21.99, each book comes with FREE access to tandtONLine, the unique website for travel and tourism staff and students.

Travel and Tourism for BTEC National Award, Certificate and Diploma Book 1 (ISBN 0955019001) is due for publication on 31 May and will be available for distribution in early June. The publication date for Book 2 (ISBN 095501901X) is 31 August. Key features of both books include:

- Comprehensive coverage matched exactly to the unit specifications;
- Written in an easy-to-read, accessible style;
- Clear, easy-to-use page layout;
- Contain a wealth of activities, case studies, industry examples, unit assignments and links to industry websites to keep students motivated.

Anybody who buys one of the books can register for tandtONLine, which gives a host of features that are regularly updated by academic staff and industry experts, including key statistics, links to useful websites, latest industry news and extra teaching resources for staff. Log on to www.tandtonline.co.uk for a taste of what's on offer.

Full details of these new books for BTEC National are available at www.tandtpublishing.co.uk, which also has secure online ordering and details of other recommended travel and tourism books.
